- Home Delivery
- About Us
- Customer Service
- Email newsletters

64°F Weather

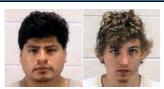

BECOME A MFMBFR! What's this?

Become a member of our community!

Sign In Register

Home | News | Sports | Business | Entertainment | Classifieds | Lifestyles | Ebert | Search | Archives | Obituaries | Video | Blogs | RSS

PHOTOS: ARREST MUGS» Mug shots in the news

GO FOR A SWIM» Explore area pools and water parks

YOGA FOR BETTER HEALTH Technique touted for MS relief

PHOTOS: CELEBRATIONS: Commemorate your event

News Alerts

Text message RSS

Voter's Guide

eVoter Polling Place Absentee Ballot

Blogs

Beacon Blog

News

Local Region Nation World Blagojevich Obama Education Elections Health Politics Religion

Local News Main Page Aurora Kane County Kendall County Police Blotter Elections Schools Opinions Obituaries Weather

Progress 2010 Columnists

Chris Bevkirch Denise Crosby The Fixer Deena Bess Sherman Anthony Stanford Jeff Ward

Ads by pulse36C

A Mom's White Teeth Trick

Dentists don't want vou to know about THIS $4 teeth whitening

Acai Berry EXPOSED (Clarks Summit Report)

LOCAL NEWS ::

Print Article Semail Article

Imagining a new near East Side

Comments Comments

July 1, 2010

By ANDRE SALLES asalles@stmedianetwork.com

AURORA — Imagine that money, time, feasibility, and even zoning were no issue. How would you reimagine the near East Side?

That's the question about 30 people tried to answer this week, in the second of three meetings aimed at revitalizing that section of Aurora. Participants came from all spectrums, and although only 30 percent of them live on the near East Side, they all have a stake, as workers or property owners or just interested neighbors.

The meetings are hosted by the Metropolitan Planning Council and the Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning, and the feedback collected from them will be used to determine how Aurora spends federal block grant money. The area being considered is area roughly from Lake Street to East Avenue, and from Liberty Street to North Avenue.

Participants at Tuesday night's session were broken up into groups, and each group was given a map of a particular intersection, and blocks representing types of buildings — townhouses, retail strips, single-family homes. Then they were asked to design their ideal neighborhoods.

At each table, a developer and an architect worked to crunch numbers and sketch out ideas. Organizers tried to get participants to think bigger — one group even suggested green roofs for buildings in their neighborhood but many offered the benefit of their own experiences living around and driving through those intersections.

The group of seven assigned to Jackson Street and North Avenue, near the south end of the target area, said that instead of placing any development at the intersection, space should be used to straighten North Avenue and ease traffic.

Mollie Millen, who grew up in that neighborhood, pushed for that idea. Millen now lives near Farnsworth Avenue, but she said she spent 30 years in that neighborhood, and she knows how bad traffic can get.

Chris Welsh of Oswego, who works with the Quad County Urban League, agreed that the intersection needed more beautification and less retail.

"Everyone's gonna love a green space, trust me on that," he said.

In the end, the group agreed to try out a couple of residential and commercial developments as well, and land planner Dave Gravel of Wheaton dutifully sketched them all out. The options will be presented in the third meeting on July 22, along with expert opinions on how feasible these ideas really are.

That idea didn't thrill everyone. Auroran John Laesch, who has twice run for Congress in the 14th District, called the meetings "a waste of time and money," and said the process leaves the door open for developers to take all the money, leaving none for the community.

Visit zip2save.com for all your favorite circulars & coupons!

Circulars | Coupons | Deals

Top Jobs

Drivers RN

Material Handler

Machinist

Middle School Teacher

I PN

Movers

Truck Driver

TOP STORIES ::

NEWS

Independence Day celebrations begin

BUSINESS

Don't set off insurance scramble

SPORTS

Bad habits return in Cougars

ENTERTAINMENT

Foghat's appeal is that they are having fun

LIFESTYLES

Real salads sport bacon. beans and BBQ sauce

Clarks Summit: ocal Mom Makes $77/hr Online!

Unemployed Mom Makes $6.397/Month Working Online!

But Karen Christensen, Aurora's director of neighborhood development, said the purpose of the meetings is to "imagine what's possible," and to connect with the community. She pointed out the younger couples who attended Tuesday night as a sign that the East Side can be revitalized, with the right people and the right energy.

Millen, who has worked for Kane County as a zoning administrator, said connecting with people is the most important part.

"Do I think this will actually bring in dollars and cents and developers? No, not immediately," she said. "But they will make more people aware of what needs to be done, economically and aesthetically."

The third and final revitalization meeting starts at 6 p.m. July 22 at the Fred Rodgers Community Center, 501 College Ave.

RELATED BLOG POSTS

- Streetcars on Washington Avenue? From Off the Kuff
- Streetcars on Washington Avenue?

From Off the Kuff

POWERED BY WBlogBurst

The views expressed in these blog posts are those of the author and not of the Sun-Times News Group

POWERED BY 🎇 Pluck

How about getting rid of all the illegals and gang bangers. That would be a excellent start. Look in the back yards, they got 6 to 10 cars parked on the grass. (Oh yeah all the illegals living there need their transportation.)Aurora is really a big joke. Aurora needs to take a stand like Arizona has done.

6/30/2010 8:45 PM CDT on suburbanchicagonews.com

Introducing: Post Local

The ultimate online experience for the DC area from The ww.WashingtonPost.com/Local

Imagine Fashion Designer New York Cheats
All Secret Imagine Fashion

ecret-cheatcodes.com

Beacon Jobs

Beacon Jobs Paying $14-78 Per Hour That You Can Train For ww.officialjobmatches.com

Ads by Yahoo!

beaconnewsonline.com: Feedback | Contact Us | About Us | Advertise With Us | Media Kit | Make us your Home Page Beacon News: Subscribe | Online Photo Store

Affiliates: YourSeason.com | RogerEbert.com | SearchChicago - Autos | SearchChicago - Homes | Local Area Jobs | Public Record Search | Centerstage Partner: CBS2chicago.com

Express Links: TV Listings | Blogs | Centerstage | Yellow Pages | Obituaries | RogerEbert.com Movies & more | Restaurant Reviews | Eating In

© BOOKMARK # 9 9 4 5 MYYAHOO!
© Copyright 2010 Sun-Times Media, LLC | Terms of Use - Privacy Policy • Submission Guidlines • About Our Ads

relief

The Asian secret to strong, lush hair

How to restore your PC to likenew performance

- Lion King Tickets
- Cher Tickets • Christina Aguilera Tickets
- Jersey Boys Tickets • Chicago Bears Tickets

